The background of the cover is a painting of a woman in a black one-piece swimsuit floating on her back in a pool of water. The water is a deep teal color with concentric ripples emanating from the woman. In the background, a dark forest with tall trees is visible, with a bright light source filtering through the canopy, creating a soft glow. The title 'All These Beautiful Strangers' is written in a large, white, cursive script across the upper two-thirds of the cover. The words are stacked: 'All These' on the first line, 'Beautiful' on the second, and 'Strangers' on the third. The word 'Strangers' is particularly large and has a long, flowing tail that extends towards the bottom left.

Synopsis book

In the last day of summer, Grace Fairchild, the beautiful young wife of real estate mogul Allister Calloway, vanished from the family's lake house without a trace, leaving behind her seven-year old daughter, Charlie, and a slew of unanswered questions. Years later, seventeen-year-old Charlie still struggles with the dark legacy of her family name and the mystery surrounding her mother. Determined to finally let go of the past, she throws herself into life at Knollwood, the prestigious New England school she attends. Charlie quickly becomes friends with Knollwood's crowd. Charlie has also been tapped by the school's elite secret society well known for terrorizing the faculty, administration, and their enemies. To become a member of the As, Charlie must play The Game, a semester-long, diabolical high-stakes scavenger hunt that will jeopardize her friendships, her reputation, even her place at Knollwood. As the dark events of past and present converge, Charlie begins to fear
