Synopsis book

Based on thousands of pages from Leonardo's astonishing notebooks and new discoveries about his life and work, Walter Isaacson weaves a narrative that connects his art to his science. He shows how Leonardo's genius was based on skills we can improve in ourselves, such as passionate curiosity, careful observation, and an imagination so playful that it flirted with fantasy. He produced the two most famous paintings in history, The Last Supper and the Mona Lisa. But in his own mind, he was just as much a man of science and technology. With a passion that sometimes became obsessive, he pursued innovative studies of anatomy, fossils, birds, the heart, flying machines, botany, geology, and weaponry. His ability to stand at the crossroads of the humanities and the sciences, made iconic by his drawing of Vitruvian Man, made him history's most creative genius

Leonardo da Vinci by Walter Isaacson

The background of the book cover is a reproduction of Leonardo da Vinci's Mona Lisa. The face of the subject is the central focus, with its enigmatic expression and soft, sfumato shading. The colors are muted, consisting of various shades of brown, tan, and ochre. The texture of the painting is visible, showing the brushstrokes and the way light and shadow are blended.
